Advisory #38

Domestic COVID-19 Testing Requirements for Aviation: Analysis and Implications

USTA sent overnight information that there is a consideration for domestic air travel would require testing. In short, this is the response from USTA.

U.S. Travel continues to engage with Congress and the administration regarding the significant challenges and unintended consequences of a potential testing requirement on domestic air travel.

In a [new letter \[send.ustravel.org\]](#) we sent today, alongside Airlines for America and others in the travel space, we outlined how such a mandate is not scalable, feasible or effective, as well as the impact it would have on the recovery of our industry and the economy as a whole.

There is no information as to next steps of when administration expects to decide on this matter.
